Great post with several good points by Phil! I probably do 90%+ of painting a model - train or armor - with the airbrush. Mix the gravity feed with thin paint, low air pressure and careful trigger control and you can paint even very small parts.

Airbrush vs regular brush - FineScale Modeler - Essential ...

When painting miniatures and models, some people prefer to use an airbrushing technique over a paintbrush. Airbrushing allows for consistent coverage but requires additional skills and knowledge if you want the best finished product..
