Ben Wolf is faced with this dilemma in Chris Crutcher's newest book, DEADLINE. He finds out in the beginning of his senior year that he has leukemia. Not only does he refuse treatment but he also decides not to tell anyone about his condition, either, which means that his family and friends are all in the dark until almost the very end of the story.

Deadline (and all of Crutcher's books) is in a YA class of it's own. Crutcher's writing is poignant, realistic, and hilariously funny right up until the point where you are crying from heartbreak. It's easy to love the characters in this book and you love them more for their life struggles and determination to survive (or in one case, determination to die) despite the uglier sides of humanity.
