A collection of seven notebooks on capital and money, it both develops the arguments outlined in the Communist Manifesto (1848) and explores the themes and theses that were to dominate his great later work Capital.

Grundrisse: Foundations of the Critique of Political ...

Marx (1973) initiates Grundrisse with a strong critique of Richardo and Smith, and through this critique he is able to counter the claim that capitalism is an inevitable function of human nature. Marx argues that Smith and Richardo are under an illusion that the “ Natural Individual [does not arise] historically, but [is] posited by nature ” .

Grundrisse: Foundations of the Critique of Political ...

Written between 1857 and 1858, the Grundrisse is the first draft of Marx ' s critique of political economy and, thus, also the initial preparatory work on Capital. Despite its editorial vicissitudes and late publication, Grundrisse contains numerous reflections on matters that Marx did not develop elsewhere in his oeuvre and is therefore extremely important for an overall interpretation of his thought.

Karl Marx (1818-1888) wrote Grundrisse ("Outlines"; the full title is "Outlines of the Critique of Political Economy") in 1857-1858; it was a series of seven notebooks, which he apparently used (according to this edition's Foreword) "chiefly for purposes of self-clarification." But the manuscript was lost, and was not fully published until 1953.
