One of the key guided reading pre-reading activities is sight word practice. We will review previously taught sight words that might appear in the text and introduce new sight words they will find in the text. There are several great ways to practice sight words that are both teacher-friendly and engaging for kids:

In working with students in guided reading, you constantly balance the difficulty of the text with support for students reading the text. You introduce the story to the group, support individuals through brief interactions while they read, and guide them in talking together afterward about the words and ideas in the text.

Guided reading is an approach used by teachers to meet the various instructional needs of all students in the classroom. The goal of guided reading is not to teach a selected book, but to teach students reading strategies they can apply to all books. My guided reading lessons allow me to work with small groups of students at similar levels of development.

Word work should be a component of your guided reading lesson plans.

During a twenty minute lesson, word work should take place for approximately five minutes. Word work will focus on phonemic awareness and phonics. The focus of word work should be differentiated based on grade level, reading level, and English language proficiency.
