But once the Law's legitimate claim against us is satisfied, the gospel and the law conspire together to give us both grace and direction for our Christian life, in relation to God and our neighbors. Having fulfilled the Law as well as having borne its wrath in our place, \"canceling the record of debt that stood against us with its legal ...

The Law/Gospel effect is amplified as the Law hymn turns our attention toward us, while the Gospel hymn points to Jesus. In addition, the third verse of the Law hymn ( LSB 570) explains our life of sanctification and the role of the third use of the Law—to serve as a guide.

We preach God's law so that we can point people to the gospel. "Opponents must be gently instructed, in the hope that God will grant them repentance leading them to a knowledge of the truth." 2 Timothy 2:25. "Godly sorrow brings repentance that leads to salvation and leaves no regret." 2 Corinthians 7:10.

In Romans 3:19-20, Paul said that the Law brings the knowledge of sin, which causes us to stand before God with our mouths closed. We stand in silence before him because after looking at the perfect law, we see that we have no pleas of our own righteousness. It is only when a person comes to this point that he will see the beauty of Christ.

The Law shows us what we are guilty of and the Gospel delivers us by grace. First, we must know we are guilty (Law) before we recognize our need to ask for forgiveness (Gospel). The Law kills. The Gospel makes alive. When Moses came down from the mount after receiving the Law and saw that the Israelites had fallen into idolatry, he threw the tablets of the Law down to them and 3000 people died (Exodus 32:28).

So gospel includes law in an important sense: God's kingdom authority, his demand to repent. Even on the view of those most committed to the law/gospel distinction, the gospel includes a command to believe. We tend to think of that command as in a different class from the commands of the decalogue. But that too is a command, after all.

Distinguishing between the law and the gospel is the highest art in Christendom, one who every person who values the name Christian ought to recognize, know, and possess. Where this is lacking, it is not possible to tell who is a Christian and who is a pagan or Jew. That much is at stake in this distinction.

The natural law is the backdrop to the gospel. Our awareness of our violation of the natural law is rooted in what Aquinas calls the eternal law, which renders us guilty before a holy God. According to the Bible, each person knows he has sinned because of his conscience, even those persisting in unbelief.

The distinction between law and gospel is a standard formulation in Reformed theology, though in recent years some have characterized it as distinctively Lutheran. Zacharias Ursinus sharply distinguished the law and gospel as "the chief and general divisions of the holy scriptures" in his commentary on the Heidelberg Catechism. Louis Berkhof called the law and the gospel "the two parts of the ...
