Solution Focused Therapy using the Miracle Question

The Miracle Question The miracle question is well known as an exercise used in solution focused therapy (also known as brief therapy) where a focus is placed on imagining what your preferred future would be like and trying to work towards that future in a step-by-step way. Here is one version of the exercise: 1.

SOLUTION-FOCUSED INTERVIEWING SKILLS

What you need is a miracle... a miracle question, that is. Therapists who use cognitive behavior approaches to treatment often employ this technique in brief, solution-focused sessions with clients. It is a cognitive (or mental) exercise that encourages the client to use his imagination to get unstuck and to find solutions to his own problem.

Focused technique is the Miracle Question. Although there are various nuances of the Miracle Question, the general idea is to ask the client: "How will your life be different if a miracle occurs, and the problem that brought you into therapy no longer exists."

Initial Session Solution-Focused Questions

The solution-focused approach of SFBT is founded in de Shazer and Berg's idea that the solutions to one's problems are typically found in the "exceptions" to the problem, meaning the times when the problem is not actively affecting the individual (Psychology Today, n.d.).
